

From: Troop 71 Info [info@troop71.info]

Sent: Tuesday, June 23, 2015 1:58 PM

To: troop71bsa-donotreply@yahoo.com

Subject: Troop Meeting Tonight is June Court of Honor--Parents please plan to attend

Hello All!

So, I'm hoping that this isn't a complete surprise for folks, as it's been discussed at the parents' meetings, and the past couple committee meetings.

Tonight is our "early Summer" Court of Honor, so parents (and siblings) please plan to stay if possible to see your sons receive their merit badges and be formally recognized (again) for any ranks they've earned.

The CoH will be at the Aley Fire Ring, up the hill at the end of the Aley UMC parking lot. In the event of "weather", we'll move to the pavilion along the lot, and in the event of "extreme weather" we'll move inside the church building to the fellowship room where the parents' meetings are normally held.

Please bring beverages for your family, and if you want to bring a dessert or snack to share, please do so. We've assigned specific things to specific patrols in the past, so this is a bit of an experiment.

We will be working to start "on-time" at 7PM, but please bear with us if moving flags and "stuff" up the hill delay a couple minutes.

Evan James